HEFTY TASKS
AWAIT RETURN
OF PRESIDENTCAPITAL BALLYHOO
TO GREET FOURTH
TERM WINNER

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Nov. 9. (AP)—Late tonight pushed President Roosevelt's popular majority over Governor Thomas E. Dewey beyond the 3,000,000 mark.

With 8,588 of the 130,789 districts still unreported, the fourth term president had a total of 24,249,098 to Dewey's 21,195,298.

The electoral count remained at 432 to 99, the Democrats scoring in 36 of the 48 states.

President Roosevelt returns triumphantly to Washington tomorrow, to a tremendous reception and to tremendous tasks.

Waiting for him at the end of a parade from Union station to the White House is a hefty array of problems that will cram his schedule from now until his fourth term starts.

They centered around: Another Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin conference on war and world security, vacancies in the administration, possible cabinet changes, demands for remodeling the little steel wage formula, whipping together annual and budget messages for congress, and those weren't all.

Score 36 to 12

But, for the time being, Washington itself wasn't interested in them. The national capital hatched a spur-of-the-moment plan to turn out the town—with bands, bunting and ballyhoo. Vice President-elect Harry S. Truman flew eastward from Missouri to join the procession.

Just for the record, still incomplete tallies showed Roosevelt and Truman topping challengers Thomas E. Dewey and Jack W. Bricker by:

36 states to 12.

432 electoral votes to 99.

Thus their margin in popular ballots was the narrowest since 1916. The electoral lead jumped when tabulation of some of the final Michigan precincts in the Detroit industrial area swung the state into the Democratic column.

Michigan was one of the 10 states that went Republican in 1940. All the other nine were Republican again this year.

Ticklish Problems Ahead

Along with the Democratic win at the top of the ticket went retention of the party's comfortable majority in the senate, a firm grasp on a house majority, and more Democratic governors. The few races still in doubt couldn't alter that picture.

As for the president's docket, some things can wait, but a decision must be made promptly on the date and spot for the parley with Britain's prime minister and Russia's premier.

Tied closely to this projected get-together is the forthcoming United Nations meeting to implement the Dumbarton Oaks plan for a world peace organization.

Russian-Polish differences, a ticklish Argentine situation, a program for handling a conquered Germany, and an invitation to visit Paris are among additional foreign affairs likely to require early consideration by the chief executive.

With the American-Russian-British parley in the books before Christmas, Mr. Roosevelt will be cutting close the time required to shape his budget and annual messages.

In his spare time, the chief executive can think about picking a

Democrats Clinch
Stronger Working
Majority In House

Washington, Nov. 9. (AP)—Late nationwide returns tonight gave the Democrats a strong working majority in the House and uninterrupted control of the Senate.

The returns assured the Democrats:

A House membership of 241 and a margin of at least 49, with four races in Missouri and one each in New Jersey and Washington in doubt.

A Senate membership of at least 53 and a plurality over the Republicans of 15, with races in Nevada, Missouri and Pennsylvania in doubt.

Tuesday's ballot flood, which inundated such Roosevelt foreign policy foes as Senator Nye (R-ND.), Danaher (R-Conn.) and Representatives Fish (R-N.Y.) and Day (R-Ill.), apparently had neared its crest.

Senator McCarran, Democrat, was ahead in his race for reelection in Nevada and Democrat Representative Francis J. Myer led Senator Davis, Republican, for a senatorial seat from Pennsylvania, but Republican Gov. Forrest C. Donnell had a margin over State Attorney General Roy McKittrick, Democrat, in the Missouri senatorial contests.

No Loss For GOP

The Democrats would have to capture all three of these to maintain their 58 seats in the Senate, but 49 is enough for a clear majority.

The re-election of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and election of Republican H. Alexander Smith to the Senate seat now held by appointment by Senator Walsh (D-N.J.), brought to 37 the certain Republican membership in that branch of Congress. This is exactly their present strength.

A late House accounting gave the Democrats 241 members, 23 more than an actual majority as against the 214 they now have, the Republicans clinched 136, in contrast with their present 212.

While the election results seemingly enhanced President Roosevelt's prospects for winning two-thirds Senate approval of the peace and other treaties, Congress will contain such critics.

Roosevelt foreign policy as Senators Wheeler (D-Mont), Johnson (R-Calif), Shipstead (R-Minn), Langer (R-N.D.), and others.

BANKER JAILED
FOR CONTEMPTGrand Rapids Man Gets
60 Days For Evasive
Answers In Court

Lansing, Nov. 9. (AP)—Francis P. Slattery, of Grand Rapids, assistant vice-president of the Michigan National Bank, was sentenced to the Ingham county jail today to serve 60 days for contempt of court before the legislative grand jury.

Slattery was ordered to jail by Judge Leland W. Carr, the grand juror, for giving "evasive and contradictory" answers to Special Prosecutor Kim Sigler during a two-hour grilling behind the grand jury's closed doors.

Slattery was sentenced during a five-minute open session of the court which ended before hastily summoned newspapermen arrived. He was taken quickly to the Ingham county jail at Mason.

Slattery was arrested in December, 1943, while Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton was conducting the grand jury. The Grand Rapids bank executive was accused of attempting to bribe Rep. George N. Higgins, Ferndale, Republican, with a roll of $50 bills in exchange for the anti-branch banking bill.

Slattery is the fourth Grand juror witness to be sent to jail for contempt of court, all for refusing to answer questions or giving evasive answers.

Women Of Chicago
Take To Pipes In Cigarette Shortage

Chicago, Nov. 9. (AP)—The cigarette shortage has caused hundreds of Chicago women smokers to switch (presumably in private so far) to pipes.

This was disclosed today in a survey of "loopy" cigar stores which showed that small bowl pipes—weighing about a half-ounce—have been selling like hot cakes since the shortage became acute two weeks ago.

Several women, one cigar store manager said, have suggested pipes be turned out in assorted colors for women.

"One of these days," he mused, "they'll be asking for a good five-cent cigar."

German Front Near Collapse In Hungary

BY W. W. HERCHER

London, Nov. 9. (AP)—Russian troops, in a new threat to besieged Budapest from the northeast, broke the Germans' middle Tisza river line on a 40-mile front today and advanced 17 miles beyond to within a mile of the vital Budapest-East Slovakian railway, Moscow announced tonight.

The Soviet bulletin also said that Marshal Rodin Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian army had killed more than 100,000 Germans and Hungarians and had captured 42,160 for a total of 142,160 since Oct. 6 when the invasion of Hungary began.

Berlin implied that the Russians already had cut the Budapest-East Slovakian railway, a development which might force the Germans to begin a slow withdrawal into Central Czechoslovakia and hasten the expected fall of Budapest.

In a wide encircling move on Budapest other Soviet troops were reported by Berlin to have crossed the Danube river at Dunafoldvar, 43 miles south of the bomb-battered capital whose reinforced defenders still are holding the Russians on the southern rim of the city.

French radio reports said Russian units attacking in Budapest's outskirts had crossed the Danube and penetrated into the Buda district, but neither Moscow nor Berlin told of any Soviet entry into the prize city on the road to Austria and Germany.

In Yugoslavia another Red army once more was on the move. Berlin's communique said, without Soviet confirmation, that units of Marshal Fedor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army had crossed the Danube at Apatin, 15 miles south of the Hungarian frontier and gained a foothold on the west bank only 15 miles northeast of the big communications center of Osijek and 142 miles east of the Croat capital of Zagreb.

Allied Mediterranean air force headquarters estimated that 100,000 Germans were in danger of being trapped in southern Yugoslavia and Albania, and that 250,000 other enemy troops were clinging to the northern part of Yugoslavia.

The entire German front in northeastern Hungary was nearing a collapse with the new Soviet strike across the Tisza. The Russians captured 50 localities in that area and east and southeast of Budapest, the communique said.

ROBOT FLURRY
SHAKES BRITAINNew Launching Sites
Can't Be Found,
Berlin Boasts

BY E. V. W. JONES

London, Nov. 9. (AP)—A sharp flurry of robot bombs which kept southern England anti-aircraft and fighter defenses busy during the night and killed at least five persons stirred speculation today that the Nazis have established new launching sites in northern Holland.

The German radio again declared that the "flying telegraph pole" long range rocket V-2, was being used against England.

"Speculation on where the launching sites of V-1 and V-2 are situated is fruitless," said a broadcast by Transocean, Nazi propaganda agency. "The sites are most skillfully camouflaged. It is impossible to find out where they are."

The robot bombs came over the channel from the northeast. Anti-aircraft guns destroyed some in the air, fighter planes chased others, and at least one bomb fell into the sea.

The spectacular action was watched by many persons, but others hurried for shelters. One couple and their two children buried under wreckage of their home were rescued.

Blast damage to houses was heavy over a wide area. Rescue work continued all night.

A Transocean broadcast implied that V-2 rockets might be directed against the United States.

MICHIGAN PUT IN ROOSEVELT
VOTE COLUMNERRORS IN WAYNE
COUNTY DELAY
CHECKUP

BY G. MILTON KELLY

Detroit, Nov. 9. (AP)—Michigan's 19 electoral college votes for president slipped precariously into the Democratic column today on the basis of unofficial returns from all but 16 of Michigan's 3,841 precincts.

The correction of a nightmare of errors by inexperienced Wayne county election workers wiped out the slender lead previously held by Republican Thomas E. Dewey, a native of Michigan, and sent President Roosevelt into the lead by a margin of slightly more than 17,000 votes.

Mistakes Unraveled

The Wayne county board of canvassers, with a staff of 80, conducted the recheck under watchful eyes of both Republican and Democratic observers and of John C. Lehr, United States district attorney, as it unraveled slowly the mistakes which workers at the polls had made.

Still to be conducted is a recheck of 13 Wayne county precincts, from which the official tally books are missing, while efforts were being made to locate the ballot boxes and tally books of three other precincts which simply had disappeared.

Mrs. Marguerite Montgomery, chairman of the board of canvassers, said it might be necessary to count the votes in the 13 precincts if the tally books are not found in the ballot boxes which will be opened by the board tomorrow.

Every outstate precinct for president had been tabulated unofficially.

Not Conceded Yet

The 3,825 precincts counted of the state's total of 3,841, gave Roosevelt 1,097,581 votes, and Dewey 1,080,503.

In the 1,367 of 1,383 precincts in Wayne county, Roosevelt amassed a vote of 543,962 to Dewey's 513,246. Mrs. Montgomery cautioned that "there still may be other major errors" in precincts not yet challenged, which may bob up as the official canvass of the votes progresses in the next two or three weeks.

C. Cyril Bevans, Democratic national committee from Michigan, said this probably was true, but that "uniformly the correction of the errors has strengthened the president, and I predict the final official count for the state will show that Roosevelt won by 20,000 or more."

John R. Dethmers, Republican state chairman and attorney general-elect, said, however, he would not concede Michigan to Roosevelt even yet. "I want to know just a little more about these errors," Dethmers said. "I haven't been too closely in touch with this thing, and in any event I'm not going to concede anything to a Roosevelt victory before I have to."

Republicans Hold State

President Roosevelt's comeback, after having trailed through the early tabulations, was amazing. Dewey had piled up outstate a lead of 213,632 votes, which in any normal year would have been sufficient to win. Wayne county, casting a record of nearly 860,000 votes, however, gave the president a tidal wave majority of nearly 231,000 as reflected in the returns as they now stand on the election workers' semi-official records.

The nearly complete tabulation established that a new record had been established by the size of the Michigan vote, and the fact that it was Wayne's unprecedented turnout of electors which made the record told the story of Roosevelt's amazing comeback. Wayne is a traditionally powerful stronghold of the Democratic party.

Yet the Republican state ticket had swept the state by landslide margins, from top to bottom.

Progress of the tabulation failed to change the result of a single congressional contest, but in legislative races, Houghton county reported the election of Fred Kappler, Lake Linden Democrat, to the seat in the state house of representatives now held by Harry Hermann, of Laurium, by a slim margin of four votes.

Deadlock Broken
On Leyte Island;
Japs Pushed Back

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Friday, Nov. 10. (AP)—Units of the American 24th division have made extensive gains on a wide front south of Carigara Bay, breaking the deadlock imposed by unfavorable weather and Japanese hill positions, a communique reported today.

The Japs seized commanding terrain on important hills east of the Ormoc road, leading through Ormoc valley, the battlefield for possibly the finale of the Leyte Island campaign.

Large fires were raging in Ormoc, last Japanese stronghold on the island, set by concerted bombing and artillery attacks.

Ormoc's "usefulness to the enemy as a supply base has been greatly reduced," the communique added.

The original Japanese force on Leyte has been "tactically destroyed," but "enemy reinforcements are still being sent from Cebu, Mandanao and other adjacent Philippine Islands, the announcement said.

These fresh troops "have tactically replaced the enemy's original force of 35,000."

The enemy, said the communique, "is making a desperate effort to retrieve the strategic position which we lost in eastern Leyte in the first phase of the campaign and which threatens his entire hold on the Philippines."

Tortured by cyclonic weather, American liberation forces bucked every known military obstacle today in their uphill battle to clear the Japanese from the tortuous road to Ormoc, strategic port on Leyte Island's western coast.

A howling baguio (typhoon), sheets of rain, knee-deep mud and slime bogged down the Japs in their indecisive battle against a wily, bitterly fighting enemy.

Wet, cold and hungry as they were, however, the determined Japs had made some progress. Supported by a barrage from heavy artillery and Howitzers, they pushed the foe from an observation post astride one important ridge that commanded enemy territory for several miles.

Commanded by Brig. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, the infantry crossed the rain-swollen Moselle river at two points and seized Koerigsmacher and Haute-Ham, 19 and 18 miles north of Metz, and 11 miles from the Saar—70 square miles of coal fields, iron works and German war plants.

Pressure Kept Up

Meanwhile the Fourth armored, which also had been held in check yesterday, stormed into the fighting, driving four miles northward to near Delme and Viviers in a dangerous salient 18 miles southeast of Metz and 25 miles south of the Saar frontier.

The Fourth armored division swept through the towns of Le-mocourt and Oricourt and broke across the main highway from Metz to Chateau Salins, a road center 25 miles southeast of Metz.

The 35th infantry division, one of the three in the initial attacks, stepped aside to let the tanks through, then moved on and seized both towns.

An unidentified division also pushed across a tributary of the Moselle river at an undefined point north of Metz, to keep up the pressure on both sides of the city.

A third infantry division, the Fifth, under Major Gen. Leroy Irvin, plunged across the Seille river and occupied the town of Cheminot, 10 miles south of Metz.

Three miles east the village of St. Jure fell, as did Phlin and Craincourt, three and six miles farther southeast. Another force took Morville-Les-Vic, 1½ miles east of Chateau Salins.

An Associated Press front line dispatch said the battle for southwest Holland ended at dawn today in the winter's first snowfall as Allied troops wiped out the last German rearguard south of the Maas river at Moerdijk, seizing 350 prisoners and several self-propelled guns.

Admiral Ingersoll
Shifted To Pacific
To Help Beat Japan

Washington, Nov. 9. (AP)—Admiral Royal R. E. Ingersoll, who proved his ability to convoy vast quantities of supplies across the Atlantic, now will direct the pouring of men and materials against Japan.

Navy Secretary Forrestal, at a news conference today, announced the transfer of Ingersoll from command of the Atlantic fleet to duty as commander of the western sea frontier effective about November 15.

In the new assignment, Ingersoll, of 1202 Indiana avenue, La Porte, Ind., will "manage the flow of supplies to the Pacific fleet through west coast ports," Forrestal said.

The navy secretary added that appointment of Ingersoll is an "indication of the increased importance of the task" of moving supplies to the Pacific for the war against Japan.

Lansing, Nov. 9. (AP)—E. C. (Ted) Hayhow, Governor Kelly's press secretary, has resigned, effective Nov. 15, for employment in another field, Governor Kelly announced today. Kelly said he accepted the resignation "regretfully."

GERMAN LINEDOZEN TOWNS ARE OVERRUN; MAIN
HIGHWAY CUT

BY HOWARD COWAN

London, Nov. 9. (AP)—The U. S. Third army hurled four more divisions today into a major offensive along a 55-mile front in northern France. The assault by three infantry divisions broke across the Moselle 18 miles north of the mighty fortress of Metz as a crack tank division roared into battle from the south.

Enemy lines were ripped by more than 1,300 U. S. heavy bombers, thundering over in the first close support on such a big scale since the St. Lo breakthrough that won the battle of France. By sundown the Germans had yet to send a tank into the struggle.

Veterans in Battle

A dozen towns were overrun as Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr. sent the infantry divisions and the Fourth armored division—one of the architects of the St. Lo victory—into the spreading battle to join the three infantry outfits that seized 16 towns and 1,000 prisoners in the opening assault yesterday.

After the bombers loosed 4,000 tons of anti-personnel bombs on the sleet-covered German positions, the veteran 90th division struck for the first time north of Metz.

Commanded by Brig. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, the infantry crossed the rain-swollen Moselle river at two points and seized Koerigsmacher and Haute-Ham, 19 and 18 miles north of Metz, and 11 miles from the Saar—70 square miles of coal fields, iron works and German war plants.

new ambassador to China to succeed Clarence E. Gauss, who resigned, and a man to take over James F. Byrnes' place at the presidential elbow. The war mobilization director said he wants to practice law back home in South Carolina.

Cabinet Shakeups Rumored

Washington harvested the usual crop of post-election rumors about cabinet shakeups, including the perennial that Secretary of Labor Perkins was quitting. Whether well founded or not, there also has been talk that 73-year-old Secretary of State Hull might resign because of his health.

Secretary of Interior Ickes handed in his resignation, as he does every four years, just in case Mr. Roosevelt might want to make a change. But there was no indication the president had one in mind.

The most likely development would be the resignation of Postmaster General Frank Walker to make way for Robert E. Hannegan, the Democratic national chairman. The chairman customarily has gone into the cabinet to head up the postal department. Walker, himself a former chairman, did that. So did James A. Farley.

On the 1944 election scorecard, relatively few states had turned in counts from all their precincts. New York and Ohio were the only big ones.

Complete returns from the empire state, home of both Roosevelt and Dewey, gave the former 3,292,869 and the latter 2,032,856. It was the biggest ballot in history for New York, and Roosevelt won only because two minor parties, the Liberal and American Labor, amassed more than 800,000 votes for him.

Ohio went for Dewey, 1,588,045 to 1,572,735. Iowa, with all precincts heard from, stood Republican 547,823 to 497,376.

All the other complete states were little ones: Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont. Vermont went Republican, the other two Democratic.

APPROPRIATE YEAR

In Japan, 1943 was the 2603d year of their calendar, the Year of the Goat; 1942 was the Year of the Horse; and, appropriately, 1941 was the Year of the Snake.

The fire control equipment of a battleship costs more than $1,000,000.

Joseph N. Lequia With St. Francis 25 Years

Joseph N. Lequia, x-ray technician at St. Francis hospital, will observe the twenty-fifth anniversary of his association with the hospital in his present position, today.

Mr. Lequia, who was born in Negaunee, on August 26, 1897, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lequia, came to Escanaba in 1900 and received his early education at the Washington, Franklin and St. Anne's schools. He was employed as delivery boy for the Mead Drug company after school hours and later worked full time as salesman and photographer.

In Medical Corps

He enlisted in the Medical Corps on May 6, 1917, following the outbreak of World War I, was stationed at Jefferson Barracks at Fort Sheridan, Ill., where he served in the Ear, Eyes and Throat department, and later at Camp McArthur, Waco, Tex., where he was placed in the x-ray department by Capt. Eugene Powell, M. C. He was advanced to the position of chief technician in this department and was promoted to Sergeant, Sergeant First Class and later, Hospital Sergeant.

His marriage to Miss Rosanna Pepin of Ishpeming took place at Waco, and he and Mrs. Lequia lived there until he was mustered out of service in 1919.

At that time St. Francis hospital under the supervision of Mother M. Lucy, had purchased and was installing a new, modern x-ray department and Mr. Lequia was placed in charge of this department, assuming his duties on November, 10, 1919.

During his many years in the field of x-ray technician, Mr. Lequia has seen much advancement in equipment, from the old coil type machines to the present day shock proof equipment of higher voltages and he is looking forward to the still greater improvements which will come after the war.

Family Group

Mr. and Mrs. Lequia have lived in Escanaba at 417 South Twelfth street for 25 years. They have eight children, including an adopted daughter, Mrs. Steve Rabideau, of Bay City. Two sons are now in the service, Cpl. Paul Lequia who is with the Air Force in England; and Francis J. Lequia, Ph. M. 2/c, a registered nurse, who is serving at the Navy Hospital at Portsmouth, Va. Another son, Richard Lequia, who held the rank of Sergeant, recently received a medical discharge from the service and is now with his family in California. The other members of the family are Kenneth, who has returned from Bay City where he was employed in a defense plant, and Joseph Jr., Robert,

DEFENDANT DOZES

London, Nov. 9. (AP)—The court martial of 10 American negro soldiers was interrupted today while the judge advocate aroused one of the defendants from a nap. All ten—including the lad who dozed off—are charged with murder, the aftermath of a shooting which brought death to two MPs and the wife of an innkeeper.

Lee Hendricks Is Style Shop Owner

Lee Hendricks, manager of Montgomery Ward's store here for four years, has purchased the retail ready-to-wear shop at 1005 Ludington from Miss Alma Gaudin. The transaction, completed last week, included the lot, building and stock. The store is now known as Lee's Style Shop.

An Escanaba resident for the past five years, Hendricks said that price lines would remain approximately the same but the assortment of merchandise will be gradually broadened. Slight remodeling has been done.

New Deal Stronghold

AN ANALYSIS of the vote cast at Tuesday's election shows that the Upper Peninsula is still the New Deal stronghold of Michigan, outside of Wayne county. Of the 16 counties in Michigan carried by President Roosevelt, outside of Wayne, in Tuesday's voting, 12 of those counties were in the Upper Peninsula. And of the four counties lost by Governor Kelly in the entire state, at the same election, three of those counties were in the Upper Peninsula. The only Upper Peninsula counties that gave majorities for Governor Dewey were Chippewa, Luce and Menominee. The twelve peninsula counties carried by President Roosevelt were: Alger, Baraga, Delta, Dickinson, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron, Keweenaw, Mackinac, Marquette, Ontonagon and Schoolcraft.

Outside of Wayne county and the Peninsula the only counties in Michigan carried by President Roosevelt were: Bay, Genesee, Macomb and Muskegon. Outside of the strong CIO centers of the lower peninsula followers of the Republican cause in the section of the state south of the Straits registered lopsided victories, in many cases by margins of more than three to one.

Republican leaders will readily admit that the result of the voting in the Upper Peninsula was more than a minor shock, for they had claimed a widespread disaffection from the New Deal cause, as widespread in the peninsula as it proved to be in the rural sections of the lower peninsula. Their claims were based on the result of the off-year election in 1942, but the popularity of President Roosevelt veritably annihilated the Republican cause in all but three peninsula voting districts, at Tuesday's election.

Thus a section of Michigan that years ago was considered a rock-bound Republican stronghold, has again become an equally rock-bound source of New Deal strength in Michigan.

The Gas Problem

NO PRICE cut in gasoline may be expected for some time, according to Washington advices, but it is expected that rationing will be a little easier this winter, especially for "emergency" cases.

It seems likely that salesmen will be given a somewhat larger quota after the war with Germany ends. Holders of A-cards may get somewhat more gas, and A-rationing will be uniform all over the country.

There is no serious shortage of coal for home heating in the Great Lakes area. People living in the East will find soft coal supplies about 90 per cent of last winter's volume.

Christmas toys will be in very short supply again this season—only about fifteen per cent of normal volume. Before the war, most of our toys came from Germany and Japan, with whom we are now engaged in mortal combat. Wood toy plants in the Upper Peninsula and elsewhere are doing a volume of business that is limited only by the help problem. It is likely that footholds gained now by the infant American toy industry will be maintained and strengthened after the war.

The gas situation at a given time is a vital one for so many people, that the easing of restrictions will be welcomed to a far greater degree than almost any increase of supply of other civilian needs.

Service Men Know

WHILE citizens on the home front may be relaxing in their work in the war factories and in the purchase of war bonds, the men in the armed forces still realize there is much hard fighting ahead.

This is the gist of the address, delivered by Gen. H. H. Arnold of the Army Air Force, who said the service men do not believe the war is over in Europe and will not be taking a "breather" before the full-scale offensive is launched against Japan.

Life is becoming more comfortable for the folks at home. Production of some civilian goods has been resumed, and even throughout the war the nation is being much better fed than before for the simple reason that many families have better-paying jobs than they ever had before. War is still hell on the battlefields, however.

Loans to Servicemen

MORE than one million men have been discharged from the armed services up to now, and discharges are continuing at the rate of a thousand a day or more.

Many of these men are interested in the "two-thousand dollar loan" plan for servicemen and women. The main purposes of these loans are the buying or building of homes, or the purchase of businesses or farms. Loans can also be negotiated for repairs or alteration of homes, to pay past due property taxes, or delinquent indebtedness, or for farm equipment.

The government does not make the loans to servicemen. The loans are made by the banks, savings and loan companies, insurance companies and other lending institutions, including individuals. The government guarantees the loans, if and when certain conditions are complied with. The idea that every veteran can get a blanket guarantee of two thousand dollars is a misconception.

The interest cannot exceed four per cent on any guaranteed loan, and this is reasonable enough. The government may guarantee up to fifty per cent of a loan, but the guarantee is limited to two thousand dollars for each veteran. The only "gift" feature of the transaction is the fact that the government will pay the first year's interest on the guaranteed portion of the loan, or up to eighty dollars on a maximum guarantee.

All this means that the money-lending business is in for a healthy expansion soon. Servicemen's families wanting information about these loans can get posted on request at any local bank or private lending institution.

Has Possibilities

THE advisory committee, appointed by Governor Kelly to direct the forest products study financed by a $25,000 appropriation from the Michigan legislature, is getting started on its research program, according to a news release from the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

Much of the forest products study will be centered at the Houghton educational institution, where a pilot plant will be placed in operation to conduct experiments in wood utilization. The advisory committee, which is composed of leaders in the educational, forestry and chemical engineering fields in the state, will study the costs of making various wood products, such as cellulose, plastics, alcohol and other chemicals.

Out of experiences of this war has come a greater appreciation of the potentialities of wood. Science has developed means of making wood take the place of some metals, for instance. Unlike the metals, however, the trees of the forests are a reproducible natural resource. Through proper fire control, conservation and reforestation, the Upper Peninsula can be assured of an adequate wood supply to sustain its industries and communities for centuries. Through a better utilization of this wood, too, the employment possibilities of the forest products industry can be greatly increased in the future.

THE COMING STRUGGLE IN SPAIN (Milwaukee Journal)

Gen. Francisco Franco's dictatorship in Spain, but in and kept in by Fascist and Nazi and from Italy and Germany, finds itself in a shaky position now that the erstwhile supporters are defeated or are facing defeat. No longer can Franco count on Italian legions, Italian submarines, German warships and German bombers to protect him.

Reports are confused about the exact degree of military resistance at the moment; these details are relatively unimportant. The fundamental situation is that Franco and his followers were able to overthrow the elected Loyalist government because the totalitarian states poured in money, arms and men, while the democratic states, including our own, refused to take part—even blockaded Spain.

Only Soviet Russia and Communists from many countries assisted the Loyalists with limited supplies. They were limited because it was impossible to transport large amounts through the Mediterranean where Italian and German submarines roamed. But the Communists did more harm than good in the Spanish war. There were excesses in the Spanish republic anyway, as it sought to build a new Spain on the crumbling foundation left by the backward monarchy.

The Communists, worming their way into high places, made these excesses worse. And the Communist activity in Spain thoroughly frightened away any help that might otherwise have been forthcoming to the Loyalists from democratic nations.

All that is water downstream now. Franco, who has repeatedly boasted his admiration of the Fascists and Nazis, and wished for them to win, can now expect help from no strong nation if the republic forces he beat down surge up again.

Miguel Maura, a Spanish republican leader now in France, has proposed that Franco voluntarily step aside to avoid a new civil war. Improbable as it is that this proposal has any chance of adoption, some such move seems to be all that can avert a new struggle.

Spain must either move in a peaceful and evolutionary manner toward social progress in a twentieth century world, or it will almost surely be ripped wide open again by revolution.

GREECE IS FREE AGAIN (Detroit Free Press)

The cleansing of Greece of the last Nazis who befouled that cradle of Western Civilization is of major importance in the European war. But the event brings squarely to the fore problems which cannot be side-stepped.

"What kind of government for Greece?" is a statement that sums them up. Shall the Hellas peninsula go back to the monarchy that was so strongly Fascist in nature? Shall Mr. Churchill's desire to see Greece's King George back on his throne, decide the issue? Shall a people's government be permitted to set up a democracy? Shall there be compromise among the apparently irreconcilable elements, or shall one faction over-rule the others?

Surely Greece has paid a terrible price for the noble though tragic role she has played. Since Mussolini's invasion of Albania started her long agony an estimated half a million of her population have died of starvation, mistreatment and execution. It would be the final tragedy if naked

The Round Table

BY RAYMOND MOLEY

While Americans have been trying feverishly to watch two wars and a political campaign at the same time, a number of developments in Europe have passed virtually unnoticed, although they are bound to grow with importance in the months ahead. High among these is the question what shall be done with those responsible for war crimes in Europe.

The general disposition of Germany will present not only problems of personal guilt, but social, economic and religious questions involving a whole nation. But the punishment of individual offenders raises specific points of personal, moral and legal responsibilities. The best early indication of what is to come is on the Russian side of the war. For Russia has already overrun several countries and no doubt has a cage-full of assorted suspects. Since, of all these conquered countries, Rumania did most to injure Russia, the prisoners captured there will provide the first interesting clue to the future.

The infamous Prime Minister, Jon Antonescu, is already under lock and key. His personal guilt is clear. He declared war on Russia, devastated Russian territory and ordered the death of tens of thousands of innocent people. Such a puppet head of a state is just as guilty as Hitler. The collaborationist head of a state was under no orders from a superior. He did not have to remain a head of state. He gambled and he lost, and his life is small recompense for his sin.

In a somewhat different category is a military commander, either of German or of collaborationist nationality. When commanded by the head of his state to commit an infamous crime against international custom or law, his life may be forfeited if he hesitates. A basis of fixing responsibility on such commanders will be determined, no doubt, on a legal theory which will result in their punishment. Membership in the Nazi party, the SS or their equivalents in satellite countries will figure largely. In most cases, a rise to power in the German army or in civil administration was achieved with eyes wide-open to what Nazism required. Thus, the plea of military obedience can be swept aside, and punishment can be imposed.

In a quite different position are the so-called intellectuals who worked on political, scientific and military plans. These people are more guilty than the generals of the army. Of all people, these planners of death had the least excuse for their actions. Personal ambition alone urged them on. Mental achievement is not coerced. It is voluntary and premeditated. The best example of this is Doktor Karl Clodius, who concluded in peace time the first agreement with Rumania and bartered, in cold blood, the severance of Transylvania from Rumania, in return for the gift of Bessarabia and the Trans-Dniestrian frontier of Russia. This, after the German attack on Russia was carried out. He planned for the sale of Rumanian oil and for the establishment of "working camps" in Rumania for Germany. Every outrage that grew from this deal is blood on the hands of Doktor Clodius. A diplomatic officer is not in the same category as a general. He can quit easily. He has a better means of foreseeing the political events which always precede military moves. And there are thousands like Doktor Clodius in Europe. They should not escape.

Getting down to hard work to pay the doctor would cure some people.

Take My Word For it . . . Frank Colby

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH Q. Here is a clipping from a word column which recommends as correct, "That kind of people are annoying." I should say, "... is annoying." If I'm wrong, let me know.

A. You are correct. "Kind" is always singular, and the prepositional phrase "of people" has no effect on the following verb. Correct: That kind of people is annoying.

Wrong: "These kind of flowers are my favorites." Right: This kind of flower is my favorite. Also right: These kinds of flowers are my favorites.

Wrong: "Those sort of people annoy me." Right: That sort of people annoys me.

Wrong: "This sort of a plan is dangerous." The "a" is superfluous. Better say: This sort of plan is dangerous.

Wrong: "He was in a kind of a stupor." Right: He was in a kind of stupor.

Wrong: "He is one of those kind of people who is always mistaken." Right: He is one of those people who are always mistaken.

Wrong: "She is one of those girls who is eternally on the go." Right: She is one of those girls who are eternally on the go. Even the best of us are often baffled by the "one of" construction. "One . . . are?" We scream, "Impossible!" Wet, such sentences as, "He is one of the men who are marching," are irreproachably good grammar, as my "ONE OF" pamphlet clearly explains. For a free copy, send a stamped (3c), self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, in care of this paper.

ELECTION NIGHT—A newspaper office at any time is not a place conducive to quiet introspection, and on election nights it is more so. Then it becomes a place where, from a hundred or more sources comes information on the progress of the voting. As the hour grows later and straggling precincts fail to report their returns, the pace grows more hectic and develops into a race between deadline time when the paper goes to press, and the election boards tallying the ballots.

Press time must be met. There are papers to be printed and sent out to the mail subscribers. The train schedules are inflexible things and can't be changed. That means that latest election returns available at that hour must be set up, and then go out in the mail edition. Then the front page, at least, must be reset to include the later returns as they come in, and the new run of papers gotten off the press in time for delivery to Gladstone, Manistique and other adjacent points.

Then, as the final run, comes the latest returns at a late hour (it was 5 a. m. Wednesday on the recent election) which are set up for delivery by carrier to the homes in Escanaba. And if your paper was a trifle late Wednesday morning, don't complain. It was because the last run was held up until the election returns from the county were complete, so that readers would definitely know the result of county contests when they had their morning coffee.

men and women worked overtime Tuesday night and Wednesday morning to bring to you the unofficial count that showed which way the electorate wind was blowing.

On the strength of those same unofficial returns, as compiled by the nation's press services, a presidential candidate conceded the election of his opponent to the presidency; a state candidate for governor in Michigan admitted that he had lost the race; congressional and legislative candidates learned whether they had won or lost; and county candidates either gave up and went to bed or stayed up and celebrated victory.

And all of this was the result of a vast army of newspaper people and their assistants working overtime to amass the unofficial word of millions of citizens and clear them with all possible speed to central press information centers. Before the polls had been closed more than a few hours, the result of most contests was known to the voters, all because the American press has the ingenuity and the advantage of the best communications system in the world.

THE INTERRUPTIONS — The Escanaba Daily Press and other newspapers expect and encourage inquiries from their readers on the results of the election. They would not go to the trouble and expense of collecting the information if they did not believe they were doing a public service. But to many Daily Press readers who telephoned Tuesday night for election information, it may have sounded as if the newspaper people were unnecessarily gruff and short in their answers.

Here is the reason. The number of telephone lines into a newspaper office is necessarily limited. They must be kept open as much as possible for incoming calls from assistants in the precincts who supply the newspaper with the returns. If the assistant has to wait too long for a line, he may get discouraged and give up.

It means that the paper may miss the returns from that precinct altogether.

So the newspaperman tries to answer your question as quickly as possible so incoming calls will not be delayed. If you dial to chat about the weather or try to tell him about your operation he may just hang up on you. He is particularly annoyed by the caller who asks "How's the election coming?" Such a question is no compliment to your intelligence. Better if you ask directly about the contest in which you are interested.

It is this same necessity for saving time that requires the newspaper to lock its newsroom doors. So don't take offense.

—Clint Dunathan.

That means that latest election returns available at that hour must be set up, and then go out in the mail edition. Then the front page, at least, must be reset to include the later returns as they come in, and the new run of papers gotten off the press in time for delivery to Gladstone, Manistique and other adjacent points.

Then, as the final run, comes the latest returns at a late hour (it was 5 a. m. Wednesday on the recent election) which are set up for delivery by carrier to the homes in Escanaba. And if your paper was a trifle late Wednesday morning, don't complain. It was because the last run was held up until the election returns from the county were complete, so that readers would definitely know the result of county contests when they had their morning coffee.

men and women worked overtime Tuesday night and Wednesday morning to bring to you the unofficial count that showed which way the electorate wind was blowing.

On the strength of those same unofficial returns, as compiled by the nation's press services, a presidential candidate conceded the election of his opponent to the presidency; a state candidate for governor in Michigan admitted that he had lost the race; congressional and legislative candidates learned whether they had won or lost; and county candidates either gave up and went to bed or stayed up and celebrated victory.

And all of this was the result of a vast army of newspaper people and their assistants working overtime to amass the unofficial word of millions of citizens and clear them with all possible speed to central press information centers. Before the polls had been closed more than a few hours, the result of most contests was known to the voters, all because the American press has the ingenuity and the advantage of the best communications system in the world.

THE INTERRUPTIONS — The Escanaba Daily Press and other newspapers expect and encourage inquiries from their readers on the results of the election. They would not go to the trouble and expense of collecting the information if they did not believe they were doing a public service. But to many Daily Press readers who telephoned Tuesday night for election information, it may have sounded as if the newspaper people were unnecessarily gruff and short in their answers.

Here is the reason. The number of telephone lines into a newspaper office is necessarily limited. They must be kept open as much as possible for incoming calls from assistants in the precincts who supply the newspaper with the returns. If the assistant has to wait too long for a line, he may get discouraged and give up.

It means that the paper may miss the returns from that precinct altogether.

So the newspaperman tries to answer your question as quickly as possible so incoming calls will not be delayed. If you dial to chat about the weather or try to tell him about your operation he may just hang up on you. He is particularly annoyed by the caller who asks "How's the election coming?" Such a question is no compliment to your intelligence. Better if you ask directly about the contest in which you are interested.

It is this same necessity for saving time that requires the newspaper to lock its newsroom doors. So don't take offense.

OVERTIME JOB — Altogether throughout the nation millions of

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON (Lt. Col. Robert S. Allen now on active service with the Army)

Washington—One of the most important documents bearing on the past-war world soon will be issued by the British Government in the form of a White Paper. It will be a survey of Britain's financial position and a frank admission that she is bankrupt.

The White Paper will tell in detail how British Empire is to continue free trading, she must have outside help.

The alternative to free trade and free competition, the White Paper will say, is a system of barter, restricted trade and cartels, such as that practiced by Germany after the last war. International cartels, of course, have been blasted publicly by President Roosevelt and one British corporation, Imperial Chemical Industries, already has been prosecuted by the Justice Department on a charge of conspiring with the du Ponts before the war to control the world production of certain chemicals.

According to inside word from the diplomatic corps, the publication of Britain's frank survey of her bankrupt financial position will coincide with the secret conferences now taking place here between Lord Keynes and U. S. officials regarding the renewal of lend-lease.

With the war in Europe nearing a close and with U. S. forces now getting a greater proportion of war supplies direct from the United States, British war needs for lend-lease are dwindling. However, the British have proposed, in Lord Keynes' private conversations, a new type of post-war lend-lease whereby the British could resell goods to foreign countries in order to re-establish their export trade.

—KEYNES PROPOSAL—

Word leaking from the diplomatic corps is that Lord Keynes now proposes a total lend-lease allotment to Great Britain of six and a half billions for 1945, of which three and a half billions could be re-exported in British trade. Most of this would be in the form of American raw materials which the British would process into finished goods and then sell. The British do not propose that finished American products be given them for re-export, but only that they get lend-leased raw materials to revive their crippled industries.

One proposal is to set up a new post-war lend-lease court composed of one Britisher and two Americans which would decide which goods could be used for British trading purposes.

The whole plan will be submitted to Congress probably before Christmas, and promises to be full of controversy.

-ARMY'S PRE-FABRICATED BRIDGES-

One of the great but little known stories of the Western front is the way in which Army engineers got a group of bridge experts together nearly two years ahead of the European invasion and designed fabricated sections of bridges which would exactly replace specific bridges in France, Holland and Belgium.

Through the European underground, Army engineers were able to get exact measurements of the bridges which they knew would be destroyed by the retreating Nazis. Each part was numbered, and special assembly crews, trained in England, rehearsed the job of putting them in place.

When the invasion came, these bridges traveled so close behind our advancing armies that they were frequently ahead of the field kitchens. And on arrival at a destroyed bridge, its replacement was a matter of hours.

-COOL WITNESS BEFORE SENATORS-

Least ruffled witness before a Congressional committee in a long time was George K. Simmons, publisher of the Philadelphia Trade Union News.

This is the sheet which first published the story linking Sidney Hillman with a group of New York racketeers, plus the series of pictures which put President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Fanny Perkins and other high government officials alongside Lepke, Gurrah and various members of Murder, Inc., some of whom have now been electric-chaired.

This story was later published in pamphlet form by the Pennsylvania State Republican Committee—which, however, omitted to identify itself as the publisher of the three million copies.

Simmons appeared last week before the Senate Campaign Expenditures Committee, Masthead of his Trade Union News lists E. B. Faunce as "Publisher and Managing Editor." Asked to identify Faunce, Simmons said he was the printshop foreman. Simmons himself is editor—with no editorial staff.

Although Simmons published the Hillman story, he did not attempt to check the facts. He did, however, publish a box stating that the editors of the Trade Union News had gone to great pains to get the story and give their readers the facts. He admitted, under questioning by Senator Joe Ball, that this was published "just to impress the readers."

Asked the circulation of the paper, Simmons replied, "I told you gentlemen 20,000. Actually, it's about 2,000." Senator Homer Ferguson sharply remarked that Simmons had earlier said "20,000" while under oath.

When Ball quizzed him about his staff—or, rather, his lack of staff—Simmons explained that he did not need a staff because the paper prints only labor news.

"I see," Ball replied, looking at the screaming headlines linking Hillman with gangsters. "Nothing sensational." Simmons grinned back, enjoying the whole situation.

SPECIAL PLAN AIDS WAR FUND

Marble Industries And Employees Contribute
Total Of $2,211

Under a cooperative plan between management and labor in the Marble Industries at Gladstone the county War Fund and community chest has benefited to the extent of a total of $2,211.15, it was announced yesterday by A. T. Sohlberg, chairman of the Gladstone War Fund committee.

"An exceptionally fine example of cooperation between management and labor has been effected in the Marble Industries," Chairman Sohlberg said.

"Under an agreement worked out between the employees and the companies, the men and women factory employees were permitted to work extra hours to make up a part of their contributions. As this involved overtime pay, the companies thus made additional indirect contributions."

"The total gifts to the War Fund from the Marble Industries and employees this year aggregate $2,211.15. This figure includes corporation contributions of $350 from Marble Arms company and $650 from Marble-Card Electric company."

"The amount contributed by the factory employees represents an average of 76 per cent more than in 1943, or nearly one and one-half days pay for each employee. Included also are the contributions of executives and office workers as well as the factory employees," Chairman Sohlberg explained.

Gladstone, which has a quota of $7,800 for the War Fund, had up to noon Saturday received and turned over to Carl Wickman, county War Fund committee treasurer, a total of $4,218.30, or a little over 50 per cent of its quota.

The total includes contributions from local industries, some Gladstone business institutions, railroad offices and employees, and a limited number of block canvasses. It does not include the sum contributed by the Marble Arms and Marble-Card CIO union employees, and the Veneer company office and employees had not yet reported, Sohlberg said.

"The house-to-house canvass will begin Monday and we hope to have final results before the end of next week," Chairman Sohlberg added. "As matters now stand we are running about 20 per cent over last year, and we hope and believe that when we close our books at the end of next week, our goal of $7,800 will be in sight."

Scrap Paper Admits Students To Dance

Ninth graders will attend a Sadie Hawkins dance from 4 to 5:30 o'clock this afternoon in the stage music room at the junior high school. The Watassan Campfire Girls, whose guardian is Miss Marjorie Safranek, are sponsoring the dance. Music will be furnished by a victrola.

Admission to the dance will be ten or more pounds of waste paper, the total of which will be contributed to the local scrap paper drive. This dance is the second sponsored to collect paper. Over 1000 pounds was the amount brought to the first dance.

Salt In Coffee

An Old Custom

Salt in coffee may seem a startling innovation in coffee, but to hundreds of homemakers in this area it is an accepted and routine procedure. Adding a pinch of salt to the coffee in the making is a good, old Scandinavian custom, and is even more especially associated with the Finnish folks.

They know that when the Morton Salt Company recommends, "A pinch of Morton's Salt makes good coffee better," they are giving the coffee connoisseur a hint to be filled under "M" for "Must Do". It makes no difference how you make your coffee, the old-fashioned boiling method, in a percolator, or one of the Ultra-modern glass coffee makers, that pinch of Morton's salt, mixed with the freshly-ground coffee brings out richer, deeper flavor, more aroma and bouquet. To get the utmost in coffee enjoyment make this tried and true method yours. Add a pinch of Morton's Salt to make your coffee better. ADV.

One Week Ago

Frank Oscar Holmquist, 62, proprietor of the general store at Trenny, died suddenly at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning at St. Francis hospital. He was taken ill a week ago, entering the hospital at that time, and apparently was well on the way to recovery, when he suffered a relapse.

He was born in Orrby, Sweden, September 6, 1882, and came to the United States 38 years ago. He had lived in Trenny for 26 years, conducting the store there, and previously had been in the same business in Isabella. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Trenny.

Surviving are his wife, one daughter, Elda Bernice; one son, Howard Wendell; two brothers, Axel of Manistique and Carl of Trenny; and three sisters, Mrs. Alfred Hedberg, who is in Sweden; Mrs. Arvid Peterson, of Chicago; and Mrs. Clarence Jones, of Minneapolis.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home for preparation for burial and will be in state there this evening. On Sunday afternoon it will be returned to the family home. Services are to be held Monday afternoon, at 1:15 o'clock at the home and at 1:30 o'clock at the Trenny Methodist church. Rev. Karl J. Hammar will officiate. Burial will be in the Isabella cemetery.

Coast Guard Lease On Terrace Gardens Ends November 20

On November 20 the two-year lease by the United States Coast Guard of Terrace Gardens will expire and will not be renewed, it was announced yesterday. Terrace Gardens is a former dance place on the bay shore between Escanaba and Gladstone, and is owned by Arthur Poullot.

The Coast Guard occupied the building as a barracks, and made some alterations there for its purpose. At one time a total of about 120 men were quartered there.

Now there is only a maintenance crew there while the last of the Coast Guard equipment is prepared for shipment to other points. Chief Petty Officer Joseph Terzi is in charge of the detail remaining here now.

Briefly Told

Closed Saturday—The Delta county court house in Escanaba will be closed Saturday, November 11, for Armistice Day, a legal holiday.

Report Damage—It was reported to Escanaba police that two automobiles parked in Escanaba, one on Lake Shore Drive and the other on South 7th street, had been splashed with black paint during the night. Signs in black paint had also been pasted onto the windows of the Franklin school.

Student Nurses Sought—The United States Civil Service commission has announced a new examination for student nurse to fill vacancies in the school of nursing at St. Elizabeth's hospital, Washington, D. C. Applicants must be high school graduates at least 17 years old, and in addition must pass a written test. There is no maximum age limit. The allowance for student nurses at St. Elizabeth's hospital is $516 a year plus quarters, subsistence, laundry and medical attention. As St. Elizabeth's is one of the outstanding psychiatric hospitals in the country special psychiatric training is included in the course. The 3-year course of training also provides for a 12-month affiliation with a non-psychiatric hospital.

SPEED NEEDED TO STOP ILLINI

Crisler Drills Squad
Hard; Game May Draw
Gate Of 50,000

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 9 (AP)—Emphasizing the need for speed in both offense and defense against Illinois' "clinder path" backfield here Saturday, Coach H. O. (Fritz) Crisler sent his Michigan squad through its last hard drill of the week today on a rain-soaked practice field.

Crisler warned the Wolverines that the Illinois ball carriers, Claude (Buddy) Young, Eddie Gray, Paul Patterson, Jerry Cies and Don Greenwood, are the speediest that Michigan will be called on to oppose all season.

"A single slip against an outfit like that and Illinois might score from any place on the field," Crisler declared. "We must be ready to move at top speed every second of the game, both offensively and defensively."

Young, the Big Ten sprint champion, has averaged 12.5 yards a carry in 51 runs from scrimmage this season, scoring 11 touchdowns, many of them on dashes more than half the length of the field.

Patterson has a 7.1-yard average, Gray 4.7 and Fullback Cies 10.3 as the Illini rolled up 2,309 yards rushing from the "T" formation in winning four games, losing two and tying one.

Quarterback Greenwood, the "middleman" of Illinois' "T" offense, has scored two touchdowns and booted five extra points.

With its full corps of "break-away" runners, Illinois has averaged more than 33 points a game so far. Oddly, Illinois won a 20 to 18 victory over the Indiana eleven that whipped Michigan 26 to 0 while the Wolverines took a 40 to 14 verdict from a Purdue outfit that previously had thumped Illinois 35 to 19.

Crisler intimated that there would be no major changes in the Michigan lineup that ran roughshod over Pennsylvania, 41 to 19, last week, though a trio of second stringers who looked good against Penn have been alternating with the Wolverine No. 1 performers. They include Quarterback Howard Yerges and Halfbacks Jack Wisenberger and Warren Bentz.

With a smile from the weatherman, the Saturday collision, which may have considerable bearing on the Big Ten title race, should draw in the vicinity of 50,000 fans, Michigan ticket officials said.

Yale's top football score resulted in a 136 to 0 victory over Wesleyan in 1886.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?"
"In 'The Stars and Stripes'...the newspaper of the U.S. Armed Forces in Europe. Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?"
"It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?"
"Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control.'"
"Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

On the board for this month's jackpot is John Meiers, who knocked 'm over for a score of 253. Bidding for the ladies' share with a 214 count is Marilyn Weir. In October, winners of a similar contest were George Hanson, who bowled 236 and Mrs. Dewey Meunier, who cashed in with a 197 total. An added department last

Legion Plans Brief Armistice Day Rite

A brief observance of Armistice Day is to be held here Saturday morning under the sponsorship of August Mattson Post, American Legion.

The observance will consist of a flag-raising ceremony at the city hall, corner of Delta and Eleventh street.

A survey has shown that when mail is placed on a man's desk, he is most apt to open violet-colored envelopes first.

REPORT GIVEN ON FUND DRIVE

Fine Cooperation Being Received, Chairman Reports

"Up to noon on Saturday we had received and turned over to the County committee for the War Fund $4,218.30, a little over 50 per cent of the quota for the city of Gladstone," reports A. Theodore Sohlberg, chairman of the Gladstone committee.

"This amount includes contributions from local industries, some of the local business institutions, railroad offices and employees, a limited number of block canvasses and also the city of Gladstone. It does not include the sum contributed by the Marble Arms and Marble Card CIO union employees and there has been no report as yet from the Northwestern Veneer and Plywood office and employees.

"The railroad employees, under organization perfected by Joseph LaFramboise, with the full cooperation of A. C. Peterson, Mr. Trombley and others have done exceedingly well. Their contributions, together with those of Soo Line offices, aggregate $938.40 to date.

"An exceptionally fine example of cooperation between management and labor has been that affected in the Marble Industries. Under an agreement worked out between the employees and the companies, the men and women factory employees were permitted to work extra hours to make up a part of their contributions. As this involved overtime pay, the companies thus made additional indirect contributions.

"The total gifts from the Marble industries and employees this year aggregate $2,211.15. This figure includes corporation contributions of $350 from Marble Arms company and $650 from Marble-Card Electric company.

"The amount contributed by the factory employees represents an average of 76 per cent more than in 1943.

"The house to house canvass will begin Monday and we hope to have final results before the end of next week. As matters now stand we are running about 20 per cent over last year, and we hope and believe that when we close our books at the end of next week, our goal of $7,800 will be in sight."

EARLY HUNTING IS FROWNED ON

Rapid River Man Fined $25 For Having Gun In Deer Area

Pleading guilty to a charge of having a gun in area frequented by deer without permit during closed season, Wilbur Ohman of Route 1, Rapid River, was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs of $9.50 yesterday upon arraignment before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson.

Arrest in the case was made by Conservation Officers Allan Tweedy and Raymond Roberts of Rapid River.

It was Ohman's second appearance in court on game law violation charges, a charge of illegal spearing having been brought against him previously.

Arraignment of two Garden men on charges of headlighting deer was scheduled for last night in Justice Estenson's court. Three others, all minors, are also involved and juvenile authorities will probably be called in to handle their cases.

A hunting rifle, spotlight and flashlight were seized by Conservation Officer Raymond Roberts, who made the arrest.

Tests Show Bizeau Child Does Not Have Infantile Paralysis

The fear that another case of infantile paralysis existed in Gladstone has been allayed through clinical examination of the child at the Children's Clinic at Marquette.

The child is James Allen, 14-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bizeau Jr. The baby developed some of the symptoms of the disease and had a stiff neck.

At Marquette where the child was immediately taken, a spinal fluid test was made which proved negative and no evidence of polio was found, it is reported by Dr. J. A. Diamond. The stiffness in the neck could be caused by a bronchitis, examining doctors at Marquette stated.

The baby is being kept at Marquette for several days for observation.

DENY HUNTERS
"A" GAS POOLException To Rationing
Law Cannot Be Made,
OPA Reports

Reasons why the pooling of "A" gas rations of motorists for deer hunting cannot be allowed were given yesterday in a statement issued jointly at the Escanaba, Detroit, Grand Rapids and Saginaw district offices of the Office of Price Administration. The statement follows:

"OPA officials in Michigan, recognizing the desire on the part of many thousands of motorists to drive to the deer hunting areas in Northern Michigan, are in complete sympathy with the personal wishes involved. On the other hand, we are charged under the law with the responsibility to enforce gasoline rationing regulations and we shall carry out this assignment. We believe, however, that the overwhelming majority of motorists want to comply with war-time regulations and it is with this thought in mind that we appeal to all motorists to respect these emergency measures and to comply with them.

"Were the OPA to authorize the pooling of 'A' books for deer hunters as an exception to the general policy, it would be a disservice to the millions of 'A' book holders who might, and reasonably so, find additional reasons for the pooling of 'A' books. For example, fishing trips, vacations and hundreds of other similar expeditions, none of which could be regarded as essential. It can be readily recognized that were the gates to be thrown open to deer hunters, it would be only equitable to permit millions of others to do likewise. Obviously, a relaxation of the regulations to this extent would be incompatible with the true concept of rationing which, in essence, makes it possible for people to share on the basis of need the limited supply of gasoline."

"Patriotic citizens certainly have no quarrel with the 'A' book holder who has saved his gasoline for the express purpose of making a trip into the deer country or elsewhere for that matter. However, they do have a quarrel with the individual who supplements
